Serving the Community

With the publication of our second “A to Z Guide to Services” the City of Davis is continuing our commitment to providing Davis residents a high level of service. Once again we have formatted this guide with the intent to help residents efficiently find the services they need in one easy publication. This edition of the guide will be readily available to all residents throughout the city, and it will also be on our website where it can continually be updated to provide the most current information.

The first section of the guide has general referral information for which we receive numerous requests, including city services and contacts for other agencies such as the county government, school and health care providers. In the second section of the guide, we have expanded the number of local community non-profit organizations listed to give you information on even more of the groups that exist in Davis. These listings help underwrite the cost of the publication while providing an inexpensive way for local organizations to reach you, their customers and volunteers.

Please send us your suggestions on information or community groups that you would like us to include in our next edition.

Comments, or requests for a copy of the guide to be mailed to you, can be sent to “A to Z Guide to Services”, City Manager’s Office, City of Davis, 23 Russell Blvd, Davis, CA 95616, or via e-mail to kstachowicz@ci.davis.ca.us.

Sincerely,
City of Davis staff
 Spring, 2003

City Hall on the Web: www.cityofdavis.org

Have you looked at the city’s web site recently? If so, we hope you’ll agree with us that our continual improvements and updates make it easier than ever to find the information you need, anytime. If not, please check out our web site the next time you need information. Public access internet kiosks are located at the Davis Branch Library, the Davis Food Co-op, the Senior Center and City Hall.
